

Kelli Stockwell bio

Kelli Stockwell was hired by the City of Onaway as a part-time, assistant clerk in 1997. She was promoted to full-time Onaway clerk-treasurer in 1999 and has served in that capacity ever since.

Kelli was born and raised in Ocqueoc, and is a graduate of Onaway High School. She and her husband, Dean, have a son, Justin. Prior to returning home to Onaway in 1995, the Stockwells spent 10 years residing in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Kelli is the president of the Onaway Area Historical Museum, and was instrumental in bringing the Danco Hippo Arts & Crafts Festival to Onaway. She also played a large role in the creation of the Onaway Area Antique Tractor Association and Show.
